HOME AGAIN MINISTRY HISTORY

In 2006, Pastor Andrew Wakabi and his wife Juliet started Home Again Ministry to reach the underserved people of Masese III near Jinja, Uganda. The Masese slum community is filled with many Karamajong, a displaced tribe from the far Uganda north. These “outcasts” have experienced poverty, poor health, broken families, little education, and high crime. The ministry started slowly, with regular fellowship and prayer within the community, and has seen steady growth since then. Man Up and Go has partnered with Home Again Ministry since 2011 to bring several vital programs and services to Masese III, including the following:

BETHEL JUNIOR SCHOOL

- Primary school enrolling 341 children over 8 grades
- A loving, Christ-centered staff
- Daily nutritious meals for both breakfast and lunch
- Weekly chapel and prayer meetings
- Rarely-taught electives like art, music, dance, drama, and physical activities
- A clean, piped water source located on school property
- Gender-specific pit latrines with a hand sanitizing station
- Currently has 25 children sponsored at $45/mo
- The rest of the money must be raised through ongoing fundraising efforts

ANNUAL COST : $46,000

SUPER SATURDAY

- 800-1000 children attend weekly from the Masese III community
- Highly nutritious, balanced meal serves as one of 3 or 4 meals for many children in an entire week
- Evangelizes and teaches children about the love and salvation of Jesus Christ through song, prayer, memory verses, and Bible stories

ANNUAL COST : $17,000

AUTHENTIC MASCULINITY PROGRAM

- Addresses the root cause of fatherlessness by understanding local contexts through baseline community surveys and establishing benchmarks for Biblical masculinity
- Year-long discipleship program with evidence-based monitoring and evaluation
- Programming includes Biblical manhood, Income Generating Activities, loan distribution and repayment, and covenant relationship

ANNUAL COST FOR ONE COHORT : $11,333